

AUTHENTIC AUTISM AWARENESS

SPECTRUM INSPIRED is a global community that connects, supports and uplifts individuals and families touched by Autism Spectrum Disorders. In order to educate the general public, our team uses Lifestyle Photography to document a diverse group of children on the spectrum and their families across the globe in effort to normalize and destigmatize ASD. It is our mission to give families a platform to voice their struggles, celebrate their victories and share their story; all the while, removing the stigma and stereotypes of what is thought to be representative of Autism and show the world just how broad and beautiful the spectrum is.

WHAT WE OFFER FAMILIES AND WHY...

We are Lifestyle photographers. What that means is we are drawn to the real, unposed, raw moments. Our favorite imagery is that which captures the true essence of a child -right now- in this moment in their lives. We give the gift of meaningful, unposed imagery to families who would not otherwise have it. To raise a child with special needs is costly, therefore many families opt out of “non-essential” purchases. But we as artists know that documenting life IS essential and incredibly beautiful. In order to be considered for a FREE session, which our photographers will pour their heart into, we ask that families apply and do the same. We only accept families with a child on the spectrum who take time to fill out their application and tell their story genuinely, honestly and thoughtfully.

WHAT TO EXPECT...

Your application will also ask many details on your child's personality and preferences. This is where we get to know your child. Their likes, their dislikes, what their favorite toy is, their limitations and interests, what (if any) sensory sensitivities they have, etc. We will then choose a location, whether it be in your own home or in an outdoor location. We will then spend about an hour together, capturing the real spirit of your child. Each session will be different, but the ultimate goal is to freeze this moment in time...to give you priceless images that you will cherish forever. Because they grow up so fast, before you know it, this moment will be gone....and I promise, this moment is worthy of documentation.
